

every drop of water counts

Did you know that?

Fresh water is one of Tofino's greatest and surprisingly limited natural resources? Busy summers + hotter and drier weather due to climate change make conservation essential.

Tofino's tap water is collected with gratitude from the old-growth forests protected by Tla-o-qui-aht Tribal Parks, in the Ha-Houlthee (traditional territory) of the Ha-wiih (Hereditary Chiefs).

Join us in conserving water with these easy practices:

- Take a short shower instead of a bath
- Skip daily towel + linen changes
- Turn off the water while brushing your teeth
